About Me

My name is Eric Huntington. I grew up in Oshawa Ontario. I am a artist and graphic designer with a advanced diploma in fine arts and in multimedia design as well as a certificate in art and design. I have a strong passion for 2D animation, film, design and the digital arts. I often help out in the community volunteering to teach Judo to the youth as well as helping out with various projects including running art shows for young adults and helping in public access television in the Durham Region. On my free time I enjoy drawing, animating, playing bass, practicing and teaching judo as well as video games.
